Ask Board OK On Catechism

The request that a period be set aside sometime during the school day once a week at Hancock Central School for instruction in the area of catechism was presented Monday by the Rev. Celestine Piammentel, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation of the Holy Child.

Father Celestine said he had discussed with non-Catholic ministers in the area who had indicated to him they also were interested in holding such classes. Of the 700 to 800 children who attend North Central, 504 are Catholic and 249 non-Catholic, the priest reported. Over the last two years, his church has spent some $3,000 to get these children together for catechism classes but now with the broad territory embraced by North Central, this is virtually impossible, he continued. He cited the difference in the Catholic training from the Protestant concept of Sunday School and said, that since North Central opened, only 35 per cent of the Catholic children were reached.

Unless some provision is made for spiritual training of their souls, these boys and girls will run into serious moral trouble, Father Celestine continued. He is able to reach most of the smaller children but not the bigger ones, who he said need it most.

"I ask that all denominations have an equal opportunity to get to their children," he told the board, adding that only 45 minutes once a week would be needed.

Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the board, replied that he doubted religious training could be made a part of the school curriculum because of the legal doctrine of separation of church and state but promised to look into every possibility. He noted that keeping the children for a

DeGaulle Returns With Painting By Miss Bea Smith as Souvenir

French President Charles DeGaulle may have passed up a visit to the Mississippi Gulf Coast during his recent American tour but he went home with the work of one of its talented artists as a souvenir.

The artist in question is Bea Smith, talented daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith of Bay St. Louis, whose painting of St. Louis Cathedral in New Orleans was chosen from many outstanding entries by that city's art association for presentation to DeGaulle at the cathedral last Thursday evening.

Miss Smith, whose forte in painting is portrait work, at first displayed little interest in undertaking the project when invited by the art group but consented on persuasion from her parents. It developed that she had two nights in which to complete the painting and spent one viewing the cathedral and another at work with her brushes.

When an official of the New Orleans Art Association came to the art goods store in which she works last Thursday morning, she thanked him for returning it to her, adding she could have picked up the entry later on. "Oh no," he replied, "this is the painting that was completely overwhelmed, it took a while to understand that he wanted it framed in the very best manner possible for presentation to the President of France."

The honored artist was among the select few seated in the cathedral later that day when the archbishop made the presentation.

Chairman Says Notice Given for Demo Meets

Notice of Monday's election to select delegates to the county Democratic convention were posted Saturday by Joseph V. Colson, committee secretary, Joseph H. Benvenutti, chairman, said yesterday.

No official newspaper publication was made but Benvenutti said "all requirements of the Democratic party had been met."

Polls are scheduled to open at 10 a.m. Monday in each of the county's 25 precincts when voters will select two delegates from each precinct who will meet the following Monday, May 16, at 10 a.m. in the courthouse for the county convention.

There they will select delegates to the state convention in Jackson June 30. These delegates will also meet at the Courthouse in Hattiesburg to nominate a presidential elector from the district whose name will be voted upon at the state convention where the state's electors will be nominated.

At the Hattiesburg meeting also will be selected five delegates to the national convention, each having a one-half vote, and three alternates. In addition three nominees will be selected for the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Dr. W. C. Stewart, Piquette veterinarian, has modified the hours he will be in Waveland next Wednesday for inoculation of dogs against rabies. He will now be at Waveland Town Hall from 2 to 4 p.m. instead of arriving at 1 p.m.

Dr. Stewart explained that he was late to Waveland yesterday because of the number of horses he had to inoculate earlier and feared the same problem next week since the horses require two injections. Thirteen horses had injections, while 93 dogs were inoculated.

Next Wednesday Dr. Stewart's itinerary is: 7:30 a.m., Roland Tailleac residence on U. S. 90; 9 a.m., county agent's office; 10:30 a.m., Bay St. Louis City Hall; and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. (Cont. on Page 6)

Waveland Votes Pier Measure, Shelves Sewerage Proposals

Waveland aldermen Tuesday night approved an ordinance requiring a permit for any pier construction and took under advisement plans for a preliminary survey for a sewerage system and a complete reappraisal of all property within the town.

Slated to aid in the proposed beachfront clean up program, the ordinance requires a building permit for any new construction extending over and into the Mississippi Sound within the town limits. Permits will not be required to demolish the structure but if demolished the owner is required to remove any and all piling or posts for the safety of anyone using the water.

A minimum fee for the permit was set at $2.50 for the first $1,000 used in construction and $1 for each additional $1,000 with a maximum charge of $10.50. Applications must be accompanied with a detailed plan showing the location, dimensions, type of construction and material to be used.

Violation of the ordinance carries a fine of from $10 to $100 and/or 10 to 30 days in jail.

Plans presented by engineer Norton Haas Jr. for a preliminary survey and plan for a sewerage system for Waveland were shelved by the council after Alderman Dominick Sonier said he felt the town population was not large enough to support the issue.

The council also took under consideration plans for Haas to examine the streets paved by the Gulf Paving Co. in 1958 which the council has charged were not constructed properly. Gulf Paving Co. has agreed to pay for a qualified engineer to examine the streets, Mayor Garfield Ladner noted, but has said nothing about payment of a laboratory composition analysis which Haas deemed necessary. This analysis would cost about $155, but Low bidder on the bleachers was Central School Supply Co. of Jackson at $1,440, she said. Also bidding was Central Texas Iron Works of Waco at $1,572.

The ballpark is a reality of nine years work, Mrs. Tudury said, and even now there have been many delays and headaches in getting the park ready.

Inspect Beach Problem

Representatives of the county health department and the Bay St. Louis Commission Council have been asked to meet with the board of supervisors at 1 p.m. Monday to discuss clearing the municipal beach from seepage of the city's privately owned cesspools.

Supervisors recessed Monday morning to inspect the beach, also classed as road protection, after Mrs. Theo Tudury, chairman of the city parks and playground commission, complained of the condition of the beach.

Attacking the situation from a health standpoint, Mrs. Tudury noted the beach was a potential source of many diseases which are caused by unsanitary conditions.

This standpoint was upheld by John B. Grant, sanitation advisor for the State Board of Health, who inspected the beach Tuesday. Grant said only 60 per cent of residue is removed by a septic tank and much of the remainder filters through a course of least resistance to the lower ground of the beach.

The problem might be eliminated by construction of a trench and shell drain above the beach with a small pump at the end to pump the filtered drainage into the Bay.

County Sanitation Supervisor Wayne Allison said the beach residue comes from acres and acres of property behind the beach. The soil of Bay St. Louis is super-saturated with cesspool residue, he commented.

People criticize the condition, but vote down a bond issue for a sewerage system, Allison said. "I have approved so few FHA housing loans for this community because of the lack of sewerage that people would really be amazed," he said.

In other matters the board approved payment of $1,200 to Tony Bourgeois by a 3 to 2 vote after reviewing House Bill No. 881, a local and private bill passed April 23, which allows the board to compensate Bourgeois for injuries received in the performance of duty as a deputy sheriff and took under advisement a bid of $3,975 from L. P. Davis Construction Co. of Chalmette, La., lone bidder on the proposed dredging of Bayou Caddy, until May 25, final date for complaints on the project to the Mobile Corps of Army Engineers.

A motion by Beat 2 Supervisor I. M. Frierson, seconded by Beat 4 Supervisor James Necaise, and supported by Charles Lavinghouse of Beat 3, granted funds out of the Seawall Maintenance Fund.

Opposed were Board President R. G. Hubbard, Beat 5 member, and Charles Russ of Beat 1. (Cont. on Page 6)

DRIVERS ESCAPE DEATH - Despite totally crushed cabs, two transport truck drivers escaped death at 1:10 a.m. Monday on U. S. 90 west of Bay St. Louis. Men in upper left are struggling to cut away parts of the cab pinning driver John Abercrombie of Louisville, Ala., who received serious body injuries.

Truck Driver Hurt In Trailer Wreck

An Alabama truck driver, pinned in his crushed cab for an hour Monday after his vehicle crashed head-on into an empty mobile tractor-trailer about 1:10 p.m. Monday on U. S. 90, was listed in fair condition at Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Driver John Abercrombie of Louisville, Ala., was rushed to medical aid after highway policemen and volunteer workers used back saws to cut away back of cab and part of the cab top to free him. He suffered a fractured neck vertebra, fractured left leg, multiple abrasions and contusions of the body and possible internal injuries.

The area of the accident was chemically sprayed and butane

Planning Board Set

A resolution creating a seven-man planning committee was adopted by City Commission Council Monday. Purpose of the committee is to develop a master plan of physical development, a zoning ordinance and other regulations.

Mayor John A. Scalfide said the committee will work toward a long range program of city improvement and will cooperate with, accept and expend funds from state or local agencies.

Members of the committee are: Hardin H. Shinnick, Andrew J. Becker, R. M. Brignac Sr., Joe B. Burrow, Howard Adams, unable to be present; also the Rev. Charles R. Johnson, chamber committee chairman, was out of town.

Because of an increasing number of complaints from individuals who say they are unable to find parking places in the vicinity of the Postoffice and other congested areas in the "business" district, it was moved by Glover and seconded by Commissioner Warren Traub that council take steps to install parking meters in the North Beach Boulevard business district including Main Street. Vote was unanimous and Commissioner er Glover was directed to investigate the possibility of installing the meters on a one-year trial basis.

A system of one-way streets in the area was carried over for further study. Present plans would make Main a one-way street east, State south, Cox north, one south and Court west.

Also unanimously approved was a decision to construct new drainage at the five-point intersection at Hancock and Union Streets. Scalfide said drainage had failed and would have to be replaced. Sealed bids for labor and certain materials will be opened May 16.

March Fire Loss Heavy

"More Mississippi farmers went up in flames and smoke during March than in all of the preceding eight months," Marion Parker, area foreman with the Mississippi Forestry Commission, said this week.

In March alone there were more than 2,300 fires which burned more than 45,000 acres. From last July 1 through February of this year nearly 57,000 acres were burned by a total of almost 4,500 fires.

Two-thirds of the March fires were intentionally set and another one-fourth of the total were carelessly allowed to escape from fields, brush, etc., in the woods. These two causes accounted for 11 of every 12 fires in Mississippi during March according to the reports made on all fires fought.

In Hancock County the March report showed 79 fires which burned 1,733 acres as compared to 92 fires and 1,139 acres for the preceding eight months.

Parker urged all citizens to be alert to report any suspected case of woods burning to him. Persons convicted of intentionally setting fire on land not their own can be sentenced to a maximum of two years in the penitentiary plus a $1,000 fine.

2 Mishaps in Hour Occur at Bayou Phillip

Two accidents involving farm cars with property damage estimated at a total of $900 occurred Sunday while one home on U. S. 90 at Bayou Phillip, about a half mile east of Lake Shore Road according to investigating officers Fred Carter and William P. Kamy, state highway patrolmen.

At about 3 p.m., a 1937 Dodge driven by Harry McClane was hit in the rear by a 1939 Pontiac driven by Leon Thrasher of Biloxi. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $100.

At 4 p.m., at the same location a 1931 Ford driven by Carl Logan of Kessler Field was struck in the rear by a 1937 Oldsmobile driven by Miss Mabel Walker of Biloxi. Damage to the Ford was estimated at $200 and to the Oldsmobile $100. All were released after posting bond before JP Judge Russell J. Kilgore.

partly lost control of the truck and skidded into the path of the bus.

Williams, who escaped serious injury but suffered a severe knee laceration and contusions of the abdomen, said the last thing he remembered was an automobile in front of his truck stopping suddenly.

This was verified by James Holmes, caretaker for the Elphinstone-Rendevous, who said an auto in front of the Williams truck stopped suddenly and Williams lost control of the truck.

Charges against Williams are pending, according to investigating officials.

period after school would raise problems with the school buses for these children not involved. The board expressed concern with Father Celestine's problem but emphasized that it cannot act until the legality of the matter is ascertained. The priest observed that one of the greatest barriers is the fact that about 50 per cent of the children's parents cannot read or write, so that much home training is lacking.

During the session Superintendent K. G. McCarty and Trustee Alton Keller exchanged words over a petition being circulated in the Aaron Academy school district, whose pupils now go to the Piquette system, to return to the county system. Keller complained that some parents were given to understand, if the district returned to the county, the old Aaron Academy school would be removed or another provision nearby made. McCarty replied he had not talked with anyone there to that effect.

Phillips said these pupils probably would be sent to North Central or Logtown and other trustees remarked that putting them in Bay High School was out of the question with existing tuition costs. It was noted that neither time in the Aaron Academy district were found too low to maintain a school.

The bid of Sam Whitfield for $626 for the merchandise timber on the old Kilm School grounds was accepted as the best. Other bidders were Randolph Seal, $461.55 and Wilson Frierson, $350. Keller, who had inspected the timber before bids were received, expressed satisfaction with the high price, noting there was not as much there as had been estimated.

An estimate from William Miller on repairs for the principal's home at Gulfview School was approved. It called for $99.50 for materials and $99.50 for labor.

The board's everlasting headache over transportation occupied the bulk of the meeting as bus routes for the 1950-51 season and equipment repairs were reviewed.

McCarty said that when Leo House assumes the principalship at North Central next fall, he plans to put him in charge of checking records on fuel, etc., for the buses. The superintendent was authorized to use a board-owned jeep with a grease pump to go to all the county schools and grease the buses.

Presenting the proposed bus routes, McCarty observed that three new larger size buses would be the buses considerably but was cautioned by the board that several notes are still outstanding on existing buses.

Legis Nease, commented that the biggest single thing that would help the school district was if the board of supervisors would build a bridge over Hickory Creek in the Piquette area.

Public versus private buses was discussed with Trustee R. P. Powell taking the position that private will service more than the public in their own.

The board recessed until Thursday, May 14.

who both supported their earlier views that the board should not pay Bourgeois any more since it would set a precedent for payment to county employees not covered by insurance.

The much debated resolution requesting the local and private bill passed the board March 23 by the same vote after reviewing testimony from former clerk A. C. Mitchell and former sheriff Sylvan Jack Lader who were in office at time Bourgeois was injured.

Although the dredging bid was about $400 higher than project estimates of the supervisors, the bid was said to be a fair price by C. L. Mobley, seawall superintendent.

Hubbard noted the board can pay dredging expenses from the seawall maintenance fund after receiving authority in a local and private bill passed by the state legislature about 1954.

The board agreed to dredge and dig out the mouth of Bayou Caddy so that Shell Oil seismic boats may use the harbor. Shell crews began explorations for oil in the Mississippi Sound in early March and plan to continue work in this area for one to two years, depending on the type of problems encountered.

Board Attorney Sam Favre Jr. was authorized to file an answer to the summons issued last week for the supervisors to appear at 10 a.m. May 6 in the Chancellor's office at Gulfport to testify in a suit brought by J. Roland Weston to alter the plat of the town of Ansley. Favre noted that the contestants must prove they own the full plot of land in which the designated, but unused, streets Weston is asking to be reclassified as acreage are located.

A final inspection of the new Hancock General Hospital by the board was scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday but cancelled after the board learned delegates to the County Democratic Convention are to be selected at this time. A new inspection time will be set Monday.

Payment of $11,250.60 to hospital contractors Perrillat and Richey was approved but the board withheld final payment of $305.02 to W. W. Dawson, architect, until the final state hospital commission inspection.

Payment to Beat 5 Constable Arthur Garcia on a temporary monthly basis as paid past Beat 5 constables for patrolling traffic and garbage dumping was approved.

Three bids on a diesel tractor, rotary cutter and rear blade for Beat 5 were held over until May 14 when the machines are in operation.

Hubbard said he would contact the vocational rehabilitation service in Gulfport concerning help for a county youth with a heart condition who has been unable to secure employment.

A $180 payment for the damaged town traffic light from Grain Dealer Mutual Insurance Co. of Indianapolis, Ind., was refused after Mayor Lader said this would only cover parts cost. The light, used at the intersection of Coleman Avenue and Beach Boulevard, was damaged several months ago when struck by a truck. Mayor Lader said he would get an estimate on the complete cost of repair and notify the insurance company.

Approval was granted on a request from J. Roland Weston that the town disclaim title to property in lots 40-41 in Block 6 which was erroneously encroached upon by 5th Street when it was graded 10 years ago.

Council also approved street light requests from residents on Sandy and Jeff Davis streets and agreed to contact owners about cleaning a vacant lot on St. Joseph Street, which has drawn written complaints from neighbors.

Eight building permits were approved as follows: C. R. Herlihy, shed, 2nd Ward, $300; E. A. Spindel, storage shed, 1st Ward, $50; Melvin Price and Horace Jones, house, 3rd Ward, $2,000; Charles Johnson, garage, 4th Ward, $300; Louis V. Rand, 4th

This little farmer will inherit 49 empty tummies!

Grandpa fed 10 people. Dad produces for 25. But our skyrocketing population will force baby Bill to provide 53,655 meals yearly for 49 people. And he'll do it with the help of modern science, farmer know-how, and push-button electrical power.

Today, nearly 1,000 non-profit Rural Electric Systems—owned and operated by local people and financed by REA loans—are bringing better health and a touch of city living to people in rural areas. These same Rural Electric Systems are building lines to help Bill and other future farmers feed 175 million more people by 1995. And they have plans to install bigger transformers, and string heavier lines to fill future rural power needs which are now doubling every five to seven years.

Rural electrification is food insurance for all. Its cost, however, is borne by the people who use it. Already Rural Electric Systems have paid more than $1 billion in principal and interest on their $3½ billion REA loans. Added proof these locally-owned systems are one of the best investments our Nation ever made.

BEAUTY TIPS by Mercedes Spahr

MERCEDES' BEAUTY SALON
Forest Ave., Clemons Harbor

FEELING BLUE? - It happens to every woman, every so often. Yesterday you felt fine. This morning when you saw your reflection in the mirror, it seemed tired and dowdy. When this mood strikes you, it's time for a change. Nothing does more for a lady's morale than a new hairstyle—and nothing does so much for a new culture as the permanent wave that forms it's foundation. At a lecture I attended recently, one famous hair fashion artist said he gives permanent waves to "bend the will of the hair". In his whole beauty career, he hasn't found a lady whose locks just naturally fall into perfect waves just where she wants them for a fashionable hairstyle. Almost all hair needs a permanent wave far "body".

BLENDED JUST FOR YOU. Infinite variety characterizes modern beauty salon permanents. We use a waving solution blended just exactly right for your hair. And we wrap it on many different sized rods, placing each just where it should be to pattern the hairstyle you want. You can have hair that looks naturally wavy... no fuss or frizz. Your hair can gleam with new vitality, today. So come in for a permanent wave—and you'll leave the shop just hoping you'll see somebody you know.

AND WHAT AN APPROPRIATE GIFT FOR MOTHER'S DAY. Something personal and especially for her—a new hairstyle and permanent wave. A gift not just for one day, but a week but a gift that will last for months. So call HO-7-5202—MERCEDES' BEAUTY SALON, CLEMONS HARBOR, and make an appointment for you and mother too.

FROM UNDER THE DRYER. A model agency advises: "Keep your hair neat, your shoes tight, and your stories straight."

Shoulda Gone Fishin'

BY EDDIE ENGELHORN

Weather was rough over the weekend but somehow some good catches were made, especially on plugs. The water was fairly well stirred up bearing out the contention of some sport fishermen that they do better with artificial bait when the water is not too clear. Specks are being caught at the Keys, Half Moon, the bridges over the Bay and especially along the seawall at Waveland. Pearl River is clearing and fishing is excellent.

Two dead porpoise were washed up on the beach near Washington Street last week and we wonder if the blast of the oil company's seismic crew had anything to do with it. On Tuesday we talked to Lloyd Ladner, member of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission and he said he intended to bring up the matter at the May 16 meeting of the commission. Local sportsmen are concerned about the situation, one saying he was fishing up the Jordan when one of the charges went off in the Bay and could see fish darting away from the direction of the blast. The Louisiana Wildlife Commission should have information on the subject because of their off-shore drilling. Lloyd says it appears more damage is being done to oysters than fish by burying them and it will probably be worse when they move closer to the railroad bridge where there is a large oyster reef. Speaking of porpoise we understand the mammals eat their weight in fish every day and they often run around 400 pounds.

A real controversy has developed between sport anglers and commercial trammel net fishermen. A group named by the conservation commission will meet tonight to try to solve the problem. The sportsmen are attempting to stop use of trammel nets by limiting their use in waters one mile from shore in Harrison and Hancock Counties. A report written by Russell Elliott, former operator of Bayou Caddy Fishing Camp and now employed by Dantagan Realty Co., was presented to the commission Monday. Both sides have their points and after listening to some heated "discussions" wouldn't relish the job of trying to solve this problem. Sportsmen say the nets are ruining fishing while some operators say they couldn't stay in business without them.

At Kingston, Henry Pulizzano, Lucien Pernicaro and son Joe fished at Telegraph Keys last week. They caught a nice mess using artificial plugs. According to Lucien, Henry the Rabbit Hunter really can throw a plug—looked like he was trying to reach Cat Island.

Shorty Wells, the new druggist at Foley's, is reported to have caught the limit in catfish Sunday out of Biloxi. Better try it around here, Shorty.

Cap. Lewis Wagner and three sons were in the mob going after soft crabs last week.

Joe Taconi says he has been trying to get son-in-law Tony Monti out fishing for two years. We hear Nellus Favre had to come to Pedro's (Tony's) rescue Friday at Wim-Dixie's cashier counter. Seems he loaded up with $20 in groceries before discovering he had the wrong pay check.

Mrs. Bill Pinson's dad, S. F. Patton of Hattiesburg, caught what is believed to be the first speck landed this year in Bayou Caddy fishing right off the wharf in front of Bill's Fishing Camp. Other fishermen who went out of the camp Sunday were Mrs. Russell of New Orleans who boated 60 and Mr. Hartzog of Poplarville who got 25 in about two or three hours.

Teddy Morel says he got 19 specks at Pelican Keys in Lake-shore Sunday. Went with Black Poolson.

Elliot Casanova says he got only one catfish in the Jordan Saturday and it was hardly worth mentioning. Only weighed 19 pounds. Says Billie Breland has really been getting his share.

Roy Ruhr of Waveland is keeping his family supplied with green trout taken around Bingham.

Also seen soft shelling last week were Ellis Cuevas and brother Felton. Say they picked up a mess. Should have picked up some crabs.

Present Recital Mrs. Carl T. Smith will present her piano students in a recital May 9 at 8 p.m. in Bay High auditorium.

Loiacano Goes for State Discus Title

J. E. Loiacano of St. Stanislaus is the south Mississippi A-AA discus and shot put champion. He will get a crack at the state championship tomorrow in the overall state meet at Clinton.

Another Bay St. Louis lad, Larry Ladner, holds a tie for a state record having high jumped six feet, one and one-quarter feet in 1955 for the Rocks.

Loiacano, who broke the District 8 discus throw record and tied the shot put record in the district's annual track and field meet won both events Friday in the South Mississippi A-AA meet at Brookhaven with a shot put mark of 50 feet, 11 1/2 inches and a discus toss of 136 feet, eight inches. Gary Blaine who had qualified in the South meet in the broad jump drew fourth slot in the meet and failed to qualify for the overall meet.

Competing with 19 schools, Stanislaus took fifth place in the meet, a half point ahead of Gulfport. Jackson Murrah won the South title with 27, one point ahead of Biloxi.

In the first annual junior high relays, Friday in Gulfport the Rocks placed fifth with 16 points. Hattiesburg walked off with the team title with 74 points. Jones of Stanislaus took second place in the 100-yard dash and fielded second in the discus throw.

Tiger Thinclads Place Second

Picking up one first place, one tie for first, three second places and one tie, Bay High's thinclads topped second place in the first annual Gulf Coast Conference track and field meet at A. L. May Memorial Stadium in Perkinston last Wednesday night. Perkinston AHS won the meet with 63 1/2 points while the Tigers scored 46. Harrison Central was third with 41 1/2, Long Beach 30, and Pass Christian 23.

Pass Christian won the girls events with 24. No team was entered by Bay High.

Gregory Necaise and Danny Lott of Pass Christian tied for first in the high jump; the 880-yard relay was won by Tigers Bill Watts, Tim Fagan, Henry Conley and Joe Treutel.

Second place winners were Joe Treutel, 100-yard dash; Glen Dorr, mile run and Bill Watts, 220-yard dash, while Glenn Blatz tied for second in the pole vault.

In third slots were Gerald Favre, 120-yard hurdles and Tommy Johnson, 180-yard hurdles.

Smith Memorial Races Scheduled Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will conduct the Monk Smith Memorial Regatta Saturday and Sunday. It is sanctioned by the Gulf Coast Yachting Association, Henry B. Chapman racing chairman, said.
